1882 Gold Certificate Premieres
Bureau of Engraving and Printing's
ANA Mid-Winter Souvenir Card

Fortunes have been made, lives have been changed, hardships have been endured in the quest of one of earth's most precious metals. The Bureau of Engraving and Printing, aware of the timeless fascination of gold, continues the Constitution Series with a $10,000 gold certificate. The Bureau produced nine issues of gold certificates, only four of which were widely circulated. The balance remained in the control of banks and clearing houses and were used in settling gold balances. The $10,000 gold certificate face featured on the Bureau's ANA Mid-Winter souvenir is of the fourth issue, series 1882, which was the earliest to be placed in general circulation. Although no longer printed or redeemable in gold, these certificates still maintain their legal tender status.

Original die #2847 was used to recreate this distinctive and beautifully engraved replica certificate. The portrait of Andrew Jackson was engraved by Alfred Sealey from a painting by Thomas Sully. The state seal of Arkansas appears in the right corner of the card. As with all of the Bureau's 1988 souvenir cards, these finely crafted prints appear on a background of the Preamble of the Constitution.

Souvenir cards go on sale at the ANA Mid-Winter Convention to be held in Little Rock, Arkansas, March 11-13, 1988, at the Statehouse Convention Center. The cards will also be available at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D.C. and through the mail while supplies last.

Bureau to Produce Additional Souvenir Cards

Due to an unprecedented number of requests for souvenir cards, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing will increase production of Numismatic and Philatelic mint souvenir cards by 2,500 for each card issued for the remainder of this fiscal year. These include the mint cards for the ANA Mid-Winter (#954), IPMS (#956), ANA National (#958) and Stampshow '88 (#960).

The Bureau is encouraged by the unexpected sell-out of mint souvenir cards and will increase production quantities for next year to better meet the market demands. The exact number of cards to be produced in fiscal year 1989 will be determined upon completion of a market analysis and the Bureau will provide further information at that time.

Historical Note
Highlighted at the IPMS
in Memphis, Tennessee

The 1899 $5 Silver Certificate (back) has been chosen for the International Paper Money Show. This note brings with it a rich history. The 1899 Silver Certificate which replaced the 1896 Educational Series of notes, focused primarily on counterfeit deterrents. The 1896 issues of currency were artistic masterpieces. However, the design covered most of the note and because the deterrent features built into the design were thereby obscured, the note was easy to counterfeit. The 1899 notes, although possessing intricate scroll work, covered fifty percent or less of the bill, thereby making more prominent their counterfeit deterrents. Numbers were not hidden in ornate lathe work and the security fibers were visible. When the 1899 notes were worn from use, unlike their predecessors, the identifying features were not obscured nor smeared beyond authentication.

The design of this $5 Silver Certificate (back) is simple but elegant. A large Roman Numeral five dominates the design and is completed with decorative scroll work. This bill's face is the only United States currency note to feature an American Indian, Running Antelope, and was presented on the 1977 ANA souvenir card.

Souvenir cards go on sale at the International Paper Money Show to be held in Memphis, Tennessee, June 24-26, 1988, at the Cook Convention Center. The cards will also be available at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D.C. and through the mail while supplies last.

Battleship Focus of ANA Souvenir Card

A battleship steaming through the high seas highlights a $2 Federal Reserve Bank Note (back), series 1918, to be featured on the Bureau of Engraving and Printing's American Numismatic Association (ANA) National Convention Souvenir Card. The card commemorates the Bureau's participation in the 97th ANA Convention.

The intaglio portions of the card depict the USS New York, a battleship which served in World Wars I and II. The engraving is taken from a photograph of the ship. The seal of the State of Ohio honors the site of the ANA convention. In keeping with the Bureau's celebration of the 200th Anniversary of the Constitution, the intaglio vignette is set in a muted blue offset background of the "Preamble of the Constitution".

The ANA Souvenir card is available for sale at the following locations:

- ANA Convention -- in mint condition at the Convention Center in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 20-24, 1988.
- The Bureau of Engraving and Printing -- in Washington, D.C. in mint condition or with a Post Office Cancellation (POC) to commemorate the first day of sale. Available until December 31, 1988 or while supplies last.

Bureau Announces
Exhibit Schedule for FY 1989

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing is pleased to announce its participation in numismatic and philatelic shows for FY 1989. Each year the Bureau participates in a number of exhibits as part of its educational mission. This year, Bureau's decision as to which shows in which to participate has been particularly difficult because of the number and merit of the invitations which it received. The Bureau's decision to participate is based on geographic location and expected attendance, in order to provide maximum exposure of educational materials displayed in the Bureau's exhibits.

This year's exhibit theme is "American Heritage" to be executed in a series of souvenir cards to be sold at eight of nine exhibits and offered as a subscription service (details to be announced at a later date). The notes and stamps chosen to be featured on the souvenir cards highlight various segments of American culture, based on historic engravings. The souvenir cards are complemented by a series of three intaglio prints taken from miscellaneous dies used in the design of the 1876 Centennial International Exhibition Certificate. The 1876 Centennial Certificates were originally used to sell shares which raised money to finance the Centennial Exhibition held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The 1876 Centennial International Certificate which is entirely hand-engraved will be offered by the Bureau for sale to the public. Each certificate will be hand printed on a 19th century spider press and individually numbered. Specific sales information for this item will be announced next month.

Duck Stamp Souvenir Card Sales Announced at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing is pleased to announce its participation in the sale of the Federal Duck Stamp Souvenir Card. Mint Souvenir Cards which include the $10.00 Duck Stamp are available at the Bureau's Visitors Center. The Visitors Center is open from 8:30 a.m to 3:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays. The Duck Stamp Souvenir Card and Stamp cost $18.00 each. They are also available through the mail at a cost of $19.50 (order form attached). Supplies of this card are very limited and the Bureau reserves the right to limit the number of cards sold to any individual or organization.

The souvenir card is issued in conjunction with the annual issue and contest for the Duck Stamp, the sale of which has raised funds for the protection of our Nation's wildlife habitat since the Duck Stamp Program began in 1934. The Bureau of Engraving and Printing has designed, engraved and printed these beautiful stamps from the program's inception. Although the Bureau has, traditionally printed the souvenir cards and produced the duck stamp, this is the first year that the Bureau has sold the souvenir card.

This year's stamp, of a lone Snow Goose flying over the marsh at dawn, has been created from a winning painting by Daniel Smith. Bureau designer Frank Waslick was tasked with capturing the essence of the art in a miniature rendition of this work for a working model. And from this model, Thomas Hipschen skillfully engraved the the vignette of the Snow Goose and Gary J. Slaght engraved the numeral and lettering for the master die. Both Hipschen and Slaght are Bureau engravers.

ILNA Souvenir Card Opens FY 1989 Exhibits

The FY 1989 exhibit season opens with the first souvenir card of the "American Heritage" collection, which features the intaglio imprint of a $10 Federal Reserve Bank Note, Series 1915. The Illinois Numismatic Association exhibition, the first of nine exhibits in which the Bureau will participate, will be held in Rosemont, Illinois on October 6-9, 1988, at the Ramada O'Hare.

The $10 Federal Reserve Bank Note engraved on this souvenir card features two exceptional vignettes: an agricultural scene, and one depicting American industry. Both scenes, elements of American life, pictorially echo the theme of American Heritage. The farming scene was designed by C.A. Houston and engraved by M.W. Baldwin, while the industrial vignette was engraved by L. Charlton patterned after an industrial facility located in Joliet, Illinois.

The note is set against a graduated offset background moving from a very light green to a rich blue. An offset portrait in the left corner of the card features an early tool maker or machinist taken from the Centennial Share tie together the elements of the Share and American Heritage.

The ILNA Souvenir card will be available for sale at the following locations:

- ILNA -- in mint condition at the Ramada O'Hare, October 6-9, 1988.
- The Bureau of Engraving and Printing -- in Washington, D.C. in mint condition or with a U.S. Postal Service Cancellation (POC) to commemorate the first day of sale. Available until December 31, 1989 or while supplies last.

2¢ Liberty Bell Stamp
Featured on MIDAPHIL Souvenir Card

The focus of the Mid-America Philatelic Exhibition (MIDAPHIL) Souvenir Card is the intaglio imprint of the 2¢ (Red) Liberty Bell Stamp which was issued in 1926 to commemorate the sesquicentennial anniversary of American independence. This souvenir card has been issued to commemorate the Bureau's participation in MIDAPHIL which will be held in Kansas City, Missouri from November 18th to the 20th, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel. This is the first souvenir card with a philatelic subject of the 1989 Bureau of Engraving and Printing American Heritage Series.

The Liberty Bell, inscribed with "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof", remains an enduring symbol of our American Heritage. It rang on July 4, 1776 to summon patriots for the first public reading of the Declaration of Independence and was last rung in 1846 while tolling the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall. The 2¢ Liberty Bell Stamp has, through the art of fine line engraving, captured the essence of this famous bell. Bureau designer C.A. Huston can be credited with the design and Bureau engravers J. Eissler (picture) and E.M Hall (frame and lettering) executed the engraved design.

The souvenir card continues the theme of American Heritage by incorporating a second intaglio imprint of a southern freight steamer paddle boat. The vignette was originally used on the face of a Federal Loan Bank bond. Bureau engraver Joachim C. Banzing is credited with completing this engraving in 1926. The riverboat theme is emphasized again in a graduated offset background of a paddle boat, loaded with bales of cotton, steaming on the Mississippi.

The MIDAPHIL Souvenir card will be available for sale at the following locations:

- MIDAPHIL -- in mint condition at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, November 18-20 1988.
- The Bureau of Engraving and Printing -- in Washington, D.C. in mint condition or with a U.S. Postal Service Cancellation (POC) to commemorate the first day of sale. Available until December 31, 1989 or while supplies last.
- BEP Mail Order Sales -- detailed information and order forms are attached for your convenience.

BEP TO HONOR YOUNG NUMISMATIST FOR BEST U.S. PAPER MONEY EXHIBIT

In keeping with its commitment to educate the public about currency, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has announced sponsorship of a special numismatic award. This award, for the best United States paper money exhibit by a young numismatist, will be a feature of the Bureau's future exhibit programs. The award, to be presented once each year, will encourage the study of numismatics -- particularly by junior collectors of U.S. paper money - providing them with a challenge to learn more about the rich history of our Nation's currency. Each year a major numismatic show will be selected to give the award. The first award will be available in 1989.

Organizations interested in having the award presented to one of their young numismatic members should prepare a written proposal which would explain the reasons that the organization should be considered to give the award. Proposals should include information on memberships of the sponsoring organization, as well as of its young numismatist organization, and must present other relevant information illustrative of its educational programs targeted to encourage the collection and study of paper money by young people. Details of proposed judging procedures and criteria should be included.

The Bureau urges numismatic organizations to actively participate in this educational endeavor. All entries must be received at the Bureau by December 31, 1988.

BEP Issues Souvenir Card for Florida United Numismatists' Convention

The FUN '89 souvenir card, the third in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing's American Heritage Series, features a replica of a $50 Treasury note (face), series 1891, and was originally authorized by the Legal Tender Act of July 14, 1890. This unique issue was backed by silver and could be redeemed in either silver or gold coin at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury. Only 25 pieces of this rare note are still reported as outstanding on U.S. Treasury books.

This souvenir card commemorates the Bureau's participation in FUN' 89 which will be held in Orlando, Florida from January 5th to the 8th, at the Orange County Convention Center.

This distinctive note bears the portrait of William Henry Seward, American statesman, who served as Secretary of State from 1861 to 1869 and became quite well known for his purchase, in 1867, of the Alaska Territory from Russia. Despite a price of only 2 cents an acre, the purchase was widely ridiculed as "Seward's Folly." His folly, however, soon became his fame when Alaska began to yield unimagined wealth in natural resources such as oil and gold.

The offset reproduction of a miner and trapper augments the American Heritage theme, symbolizing frontiersmen reaching one of the United States' last frontiers, Alaska. These figures were taken from the Centennial Share Certificate of 1876.

The FUN '89 souvenir card will be available for sale at the following locations:

- FUN '89-- in mint condition at the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando, Florida, January 5-8 1989.
- The Bureau of Engraving and Printing -- in Washington, D.C. in mint condition or with a U.S. Postal Service Cancellation (POC) to commemorate the first day of sale. Available until December 31, 1989 or while supplies last.
- BEP Mail Order Sales -- detailed information and order forms are attached for your convenience.

The first of three special intaglio prints, to be issued by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for 1989, will debut at the Florida United Numismatists' Convention. This engraved masterpiece features a vignette of an Indian lamenting the emerging industrialization of America. The fulfillment of the American philosophy of manifest destiny is yet another facet of the American Heritage theme explored by the 1989 series of special intaglio prints and souvenir cards.

This vignette was also used in the composite illustration of American life portrayed in the Centennial Share Certificate of 1876. The mournful countenance of the Indian, industry, and the windmill was captured in a fine line steel engraving by master Bureau engraver Charles Burt in 1874. Original die #1831 was used to create this emotionally evocative intaglio print.

The Bureau will attend the FUN '89 Convention, to be held in Orlando, Florida at the Orange County Convention Center from January 5th to the 8th, as an exhibitor. A live demonstration a 19th century printing press known as a "Spider Press" will be part of the Bureau's exhibit. This exhibit will also feature rare sheets of currency and the popular billion dollar display.

This special intaglio print will be available for sale at the following locations:

- FUN '89 -- at the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando, Florida, January 5-8 1989.
- The Bureau of Engraving and Printing -- in Washington, D.C. Available until December 31, 1989 or while supplies last.
- BEP Mail Order Sales -- detailed information and an order form are attached for your convenience.

Purchases are limited to FIVE (5) intaglio prints per person.
